

Calla Randall

Call: 2022

Calla Randall joined Three Raymond Buildings following successful completion of her pupillage.

She is developing a practice across Chambers' main areas of expertise, with a particular interest in crime, proceeds of crime, police misconduct, public law, and extradition.

Civil & Quasi-criminal Matters

Calla is regularly instructed by the Metropolitan Police Service and Essex Police to appear in applications for civil preventative orders, including Sexual Risk Orders, Sexual Harm Prevention Orders, and Stalking Protection Orders

Licensing & Regulatory

Calla acts for licensing authorities in the Magistrates' and Crown Courts. During pupillage she gained substantial experience assisting with cases before police misconduct tribunals and the Police Appeals Tribunal. She has a developing interest in police misconduct work.

Crime

Calla regularly prosecutes and defends in the Magistrates' and Crown Courts. She has defended in cases involving a range of matters including assault, drug possession, drug supply, criminal damage, public order, and driving offences.

Besides her defence practice she is instructed to prosecute by the Crown Prosecution Service and Transport for London.

Financial Crime & Proceeds of Crime

Calla is instructed in forfeiture matters by the Metropolitan Police Service. During pupillage she assisted in the preparation of a range of POCA matters, including an application to vary a restraint order, and defending an interested party in confiscation proceedings.

Extradition

Calla has a strong interest in extradition law. She has appeared in extradition matters on behalf of requested persons at Westminster Magistrates' Court and in an extradition bail appeal in the High Court. She is developing her practice in this area and is available for instruction in extradition cases.

Public Law

Calla assisted with a range of judicial review cases during pupillage. She has a keen interest in developing a practice in this area.

Privacy Statement

I, Calla Randall, am a data controller and can be contacted at 3 Raymond Buildings, Gray's Inn, London WC1R 5BH or by telephone on 020 7400 6400 or by email at calla.randall@3rblaw.com. My Data Protection Policy can be found here.

All personal data that I process is for the purposes of providing legal services, conducting conflict-checks, marketing, defending potential complaints, legal proceedings or fee disputes, keeping anti-money laundering records, training other barristers and pupils and when providing work-shadowing opportunities, and/or exercising a right to a lien. The types of data I process vary upon the nature of the legal matter in relation to which I am engaged to advise, but can include names, contact details, biographic details and 'special category personal data' (such as details of racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, health, sex life and criminal convictions and proceedings).

Depending upon the circumstances of the case, the legal bases upon which I process personal data are (i) the performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party or in order to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract, (ii) the processing is necessary to comply with legal obligations to which I am subject, or (iii) the processing is necessary for the legitimate interests set out above, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subjects which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child. When I rely on (iii) legitimate interests, my 'Legitimate Interests Assessment' can be found here. When I process data which has not been obtained directly from the data subject (e.g. personal data contained in evidential materials), it will have been supplied to me as part of my instructions in circumstances covered by legal professional privilege.

Depending upon the circumstances of the case, I may share the personal data with:

1. my Chambers, which supplies professional and administrative support to my practice;
2. Courts and other tribunals to whom documents are presented;
3. my lay and professional clients;
4. potential witnesses, in particular experts, and friends or family of the data subject;
5. solicitors, barristers, pupils, mini pupils and other legal representatives;
6. ombudsmen and regulatory authorities;
7. current, past or prospective employers;
8. education and examining bodies;
9. business associates, professional advisers and trade bodies.

I retain personal data for no longer than 7 years after the case has come to an end or as otherwise required by law.

I do not intend to transfer data to any country which is not either within the European Union, or otherwise permitted by UK data protection legislation.

Under the UK GDPR, data subjects whose personal data I process have the right to request from me access to, and rectification or erasure of, their personal data, the right to the restriction of processing concerning them, the right to object to processing as well as the right to data portability. Data subjects also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ico.org.uk).

In cases where there is a contract between me and the data subject, the provision of personal data is a contractual requirement and the data subject is obliged to provide the personal data in order that I can supply legal services. A failure to provide such data may mean that I will not be able to provide those legal services.
