

Jenna Gayle

Call: 2024

Jenna joined Three Raymond Buildings as a pupil in October 2025.

Prior to commencing pupillage, Jenna worked as a paralegal in a criminal defence firm for 2 years. Jenna assisted on a broad range of cases including complex fraud, investigatory powers, data protection and serious sexual offences.

Previously, Jenna worked as a marketer and managed a nursery in South London.

Civil and quasi-criminal matters

Prior to commencing pupillage, Jenna worked on several civil and quasi-criminal matters as a paralegal. These included preparing the defence to a civil fraud claim, advising client on obligations under the Investigatory Powers Act 2016 and advising companies and institutions on contempt of court risks.

Licensing and regulatory

During pupillage, Jenna has assisted members of Chambers advising TFL on its licencing policies and defending in police misconduct proceedings.

Crime

During pupillage, Jenna has assisted members of Chambers prosecuting and defending serious criminal offences. Jenna has worked on multiple murder and manslaughter cases including a 6 week trial, multi-handed murder trial at the Old Bailey. Jenna has assisted in producing advice on criminal matters including sentencing, disclosure and rights of appeal.

Jenna has completed ICCA's Advocacy for Children in Conflict with the law training.

Financial crime and proceeds of crime

During pupillage, Jenna has assisted members of chambers prosecuting and defending in serious fraud matters. These include an SFO prosecution relating to the misappropriation of client funds, an FCA prosecution of a cryptocurrency exchange and the defence in private prosecution for conspiracy to defraud. Jenna has also assisted with advising in relation to POCA forfeiture proceedings.

Prior to commencing pupillage, Jenna gained experience working on a range of financial crime matters as a paralegal, including two large-scale SFO investigations.

Extradition

During pupillage, Jenna has gained experience assisting members of Chambers in preparing cases on behalf of both requested persons and requesting states. These include the defence of a HNW individual whose extradition was sought by two jurisdictions, an extradition request brought by Kuwait in relation to complex financial transactions and an extradition request brought by Poland in relation to historic financial offences.

Jenna also undertook marshalling at Westminster Magistrates' Court to further her experience of extradition law and procedure.

Public law, inquests and inquiries

During pupillage, Jenna has assisted members of chambers advising public authorities on sanctions and disclosure.

Privacy Statement

I, Jenna Gayle, am a data controller and can be contacted at 3 Raymond Buildings, Gray's Inn, London WC1R 5BH or by telephone on 020 7400 6400 or by email at jenna.gayle@3rblaw.com. My Data Protection Policy can be found here.

All personal data that I process is for the purposes of providing legal services, conducting conflict-checks, marketing, defending potential complaints, legal proceedings or fee disputes, keeping anti-money laundering records, training other barristers and pupils and when providing work-shadowing opportunities, and/or exercising a right to a lien. The types of data I process vary upon the nature of the legal matter in relation to which I am engaged to advise, but can include names, contact details, biographic details and 'special category personal data' (such as details of racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, health, sex life and criminal convictions and proceedings).

Depending upon the circumstances of the case, the legal bases upon which I process personal data are (i) the performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party or in order to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract, (ii) the processing is necessary to comply with legal obligations to which I am subject, or (iii) the processing is necessary for the legitimate interests set out above, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subjects which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child. When I rely on (iii) legitimate interests, my 'Legitimate Interests Assessment' can be found here. When I process data which has not been obtained directly from the data subject (e.g. personal data contained in evidential materials), it will have been supplied to me as part of my instructions in circumstances covered by legal professional privilege.

Depending upon the circumstances of the case, I may share the personal data with:

1. my Chambers, which supplies professional and administrative support to my practice;
2. Courts and other tribunals to whom documents are presented;
3. my lay and professional clients;
4. potential witnesses, in particular experts, and friends or family of the data subject;
5. solicitors, barristers, pupils, mini pupils and other legal representatives;
6. ombudsmen and regulatory authorities;
7. current, past or prospective employers;
8. education and examining bodies;
9. business associates, professional advisers and trade bodies.

I retain personal data for no longer than 7 years after the case has come to an end or as otherwise required by law.

I do not intend to transfer data to any country which is not either within the European Union, or otherwise permitted by UK data protection legislation.

Under the UK GDPR, data subjects whose personal data I process have the right to request from me access to, and rectification or erasure of, their personal data, the right to the restriction of processing concerning them, the right to object to processing as well as the right to data portability. Data subjects also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ico.org.uk).

In cases where there is a contract between me and the data subject, the provision of personal data is a contractual requirement and the data subject is obliged to provide the personal data in order that I can supply legal services. A failure to provide such data may mean that I will not be able to provide those legal services.
